Privacy Notice for Parents/Carers of pupils under the age of 13

Who we are

Academy Learning is the organisation which is in charge of your child's personal information. This means the Academy Trust is called the Data Controller.

The postal address of the Academy Trust is:

Anglian Learning
Bottisham Village College
Lode Road
Cambridge
CB25 9DL

If you have queries regarding how we use your child's personal information you can contact our Data Protection Officer. The role of the Data Protection Officer for the Trust is being undertaken by The ICT Service. Our Data Officer at The ICT Service is Paul Stratford who can be contacted on 01480 373229 or paul.stratford@theictservice.org.uk. Alternatively you can leave a letter at reception or send one by post to us which we will then forward.

The categories of pupil information that we process include:

- Personal identifiers and contacts (such as name, unique pupil number, contact details and address)
- Characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, and free school meal eligibility)
- Safeguarding information (such as court orders and professional involvement)
- Special educational needs (including the needs and ranking)
- Medical and administration (such as doctors information, child health, dental health, allergies, medication and dietary requirements)
- Attendance (such as sessions attended, number of absences, absence reasons and any previous schools attended)
- Assessment and attainment (progress information and exam results)
- Behavioural information (such as exclusions and any relevant alternative provision put in place)
- Information about free school meal and pupil premium eligibility
- Information for catering management purposes (e.g. whether your child has school dinners and how often)
- Biometric information for cashless catering purposes

We will also use photographs of your child. More details about this are in our photograph policy.

Why we collect and use pupil information

Anglian Learning collect and hold personal information relating to our pupils and may also receive information about them from their previous school, local authority and / or the Department for Education (DfE). We use this personal data to:

- support your child's learning
- monitor and report on their progress
- provide appropriate care for your child; and
- assess the quality of our services
- to keep children safe (food allergies or emergency contact details)
- to comply with the statutory duties placed on us by the DfE data collections

For pupils enrolling for post 14 qualifications, the Learning Records Service will give us the unique learner number (ULN) and may also give us details about your child's learning or qualifications.

The use of your child's information for these purposes is lawful for the following reasons:

- The Academy Trust is under a legal obligation to collect the information or the information is necessary for us to meet legal requirements imposed upon us such as our duty to safeguard pupils.
- it is necessary for us to hold and use your child's information for the purposes of our functions in providing schooling and so we can look after our pupils. This is a function which is in the public interest because everybody needs to have an education. This means we have a real and proper reasons to use your child's information.
- We will not usually need your consent to use your child's information. However, if at any time it appears to us that we would like to use your child's personal data in a way which means that we would need your consent then we will explain to you what we want to do and ask you for consent. This is most likely to be we are involved in activities which are not really part of our job as an Academy Trust / School but we are involved because we think it would benefit our pupils. If you give your consent, you may change your mind at any time.

How we collect pupil information

When we collect personal information on our forms, we will make it clear whether there is a legal requirement for you to provide it, whether there is a legal requirement on the school / academy trust to collect it. If there is no legal requirement then we will explain why we need it and what the consequences are if it is not provided.

We will also obtain information from your child's previous school, usually via secure file transfer from your child's previous school.

When we give your child's information to others

Once our pupils reach the age of 13, the law requires us to pass on certain information to providers of Youth Support Services in your area who have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds. We may also share certain personal data relating to children aged 16 and over with post-16 education and training providers in order to secure appropriate services for them. A parent / guardian can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth be passed to the support service by informing the relevant school. This right is transferred to the child once he / she reaches the age 16. For more information about services for young people, please go to the National Careers website <https://nationalcareersservice.direct.gov.uk>.

We will not give information about our pupils to anyone without your or your child's consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. If you want to receive a copy of the information about your child that we hold, please contact the relevant school:

We are required, by law (under regulation 5 of the Education (Information about Individual Pupils) England Regulations 2013, to pass some information about our pupils to the Department for Education (DfE). This is the part of the Government which is responsible for schools. This information may, in turn, then be made available for use by the Local Authority.

The DfE may also share information about pupils that we give to them, with other people or organisations. This will only take place where the law, including the law about data protection allows it.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the pupil information we share with the department, for the purpose of data collections, go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

To find out more about the NPD, go to National pupil database: user guide and supporting information - GOV.UK.

The department may share information about our pupils from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

For more information about the department's data sharing process, please visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/data-protection-how-we-collect-and-share-research-data>

For information about which organisations the department has provided pupil information, (and for which project), please visit the following website:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-requests-received>

To contact DfE: <https://www.gov.uk/contact-dfe>

We will also take family circumstances into account when disclosing information, in particular where a Court has decided what information a parent is allowed to have.

We will also disclose your child's personal data to:

- Your child's new school if they move schools
- Disclosures connected with SEN support
- School Nurse
- School Counsellor
- Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS)

The information disclosed to these people / services will include sensitive personal information about your child. Usually this means information about your child's health and any special educational needs or disabilities which they have. We do this because these people need the information so that they can support your child.

Our disclosure of your child's personal data is lawful for the following reasons:

- The Academy Trust is under a legal obligation to disclose the information or disclosing the information is necessary for us to meet legal requirements imposed upon us such as our duty to look after our pupils and protect them from harm.
- It is necessary for us to disclose your child's information for the purposes of our functions in providing schooling. This is a function which is in the public interest.
- There is substantial public interest in disclosing your child's information because it is necessary to keep our pupils safe from harm.
- We may not need consent to disclose your child's information. However, if at any time it appears to us that we would need consent then we will ask you before a disclosure is made.

It is in your child's interests for their personal information to be passed to these people or services. If we need consent to pass on your child's information, we will ask you or your child for consent if they are old enough to understand.

We do not normally transfer your child's information to a different country which is outside the European Economic Area. This would only happen if one of their parents lives abroad or if your child move to a new school abroad. If this happens we will be very careful to make sure that it is safe to transfer your child's information. We will look at whether that other country has good data protection laws for example. If we cannot be sure that it is safe then we will talk to you about it and make sure that you are happy for us to send your child's information. As this is not something we normally do and we don't know which country we might need to send your child's information to, we cannot tell you more about it now but if we want to transfer your child's data to a different country then we will tell you whether or not we think it is safe and why we have decided that.

How long we keep your child's information

We only keep your child's information for as long as we need to or for as long as the law requires us to. Most of the information we have about your child will be in our pupil files. We usually keep these until their 25th birthday unless your child move to another school in which case we send your child's file to their new school. We have a policy which explains how long we keep information. It is called a Records Retention Policy and you can find it here <https://anglianlearning.org/financial-documents/data-protection/> or ask for a copy at the school office.

Your rights

You have these rights:

- You can ask us for a copy of the information we have about your child
- You can ask us to correct any information we have about your child if you think it is wrong
- You can ask us to erase information about your child (although we may have good reasons why we cannot do this)
- You can ask us to limit what we are doing with your child's information
- You can object to what we are doing with your child's information
- You can ask us to transfer your child's information to another organisation in a format that makes it easy for them to use.

There is more information in our Data Protection Policy which is available on the Anglian Learning website <https://anglianlearning.org/financial-documents/data-protection/>

A list of all third parties that we share or that process data on our behalf is also available on the Anglian Learning website.
